Wheatland
VILLAGE

*...moving with the rhythms
of the seasons*

The wind across ripe wheat fields. Grape leaves turning russet. The scent of a warm spring wind. The stillness of a field resting between crops.

Passing years take on a rhythm that fills our days until, when it's time to think of retirement, it is not thinking about change so much as moving into the next season.

Wheatland Village springs from deep roots in this community. Planned and built by people who understand what life in this valley means, it reflects the connection residents here have with the land. From the rich, warm colors of harvested wheat, ripened fruit and sunset skies that surround you, to the landscaped grounds. Wheatland Village is a continuation of what people from this valley have come to love.

We invite you to call and join us for lunch, schedule a tour and meet the professional and caring staff of Wheatland Village.

*...the heart
of the Village*

Home is the heart of any village, and the apartments, penthouses and cottages that make up Wheatland Village provide comfortable privacy while encouraging interaction in the larger community.

Sun-filled residences feature full kitchens—perfect for family and friends to come together for celebrations or quiet times. All apartments have a wireless emergency call system, providing peace of mind if you need to summon assistance. Laundry and housekeeping can be provided, and are included with our assisted living apartments. And our independent residents have enclosed parking available.

If you prefer to let someone else do the cooking, you'll find a bounty of menu choices in our restaurant, The Sweet Onion.

of the Village*

Retirement is the reward for a vibrant and productive life.

At Wheatland Village we continue to offer you a gracious lifestyle. Start with the spa—you have a fully-equipped fitness room, and access to an Olympic-length lap pool.

Our wellness director is ready to work with you to design a program to help you enjoy your retirement years to their fullest. Based on your interests and abilities, this may mean starting your day with a few laps in the pool, playing a round on our putting green before breakfast, an afternoon engaged in a competitive game of billiards or a midday water aerobics class. For those who prefer to venture into cyberspace, there is the business center. If intellectual pursuits beckon, you can curl up with a favorite book in our well-stocked library.

At the center of it all, there is the Village. Your neighborhood barber, beauty salon, bank, movie theater, coffee shop and ice cream parlor form a hub where you'll meet the neighbors, visit with friends and know you are truly home.

Generations Retirement Communities, in collaboration with Walla Walla General Hospital, has made Wheatland Village a reality.

With successful retirement communities throughout the northwest, Generations is committed to delivering the highest standard of service, promoting the health and happiness of both residents and staff, and treating each and every person with dignity and respect.

In fulfilling this commitment, Generations has received a number of awards including recognition as an outstanding business leader in senior housing, assisted living and long term care. Generations is a family-owned business with multiple generations working together to create communities that support and celebrate the retirement years. Generations is pleased to join with Adventist Health to provide an environment dedicated to building a physically and spiritually healthy community.
